Die Jovis 21. die Octobris. 1641.

WHereas upon the Lords meeting after their late Receſſe, finding that there are many Petitions depending in the Houſe, and conceiving that many more may come in, which may occaſion the repair and attendance of divers of his Majeſties Subjects at this place: their Lordſhips have thought fit, and accordingly have ordered it, That becauſe of the danger of Infection, and becauſe there are many publike buſineſſes of great importance in agitation, which concern the ſafety and Weale of the Kingdom, that all private buſineſſes be deferred and put off till the thirtieth of November next. Whereof their Lordſhips do hereby give publike notice to the Whole Kingdom, to prevent the charge and trouble which otherwiſe the Petitioners might be put unto in repairing hither.

¶ Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, Printer to the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſtie: And by the Aſsignes of John Bill. 1641